

Rye Garden Club Holds Meeting With Mrs. Denny

Twenty members of the Rye Garden Club met for the second of two summer meetings on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Denny, Pine Island. Members again brought home grown flowers and plants for advice, comparison or just show and admiration. Moderators were Mrs. Harvey Kelsey, Jr., horticulture chairman, and the Club's president, Mrs. William M. Jennings. Mrs. Denny is immediate past president.

It was announced that Mrs. Olive Everett, who was president of the Garden Club from 1959 to 1961, had been awarded a Garden Club of America Horticultural Achievement Certificate requested by the executive committee of her own Club, for her knowledge and skill in all phases of horticulture. Mrs. Everett, who now resides in Londonderry, Vt., for many years co-ordinated horticulture shows and plant sales for her Club in Rye; was chairman of a committee which constructed and exhibited a garden at the International Flower Show at the Coliseum, N. Y. City, has been horticulture chairman of the Garden Club of America, and most recently co-chairman of the G.C.A. annual Show in Bryant Park, New York City. She has been cited for her skill in gardening, and also for her executive abilities in leading horticultural group activities, locally and nationally. Her Club was happy to be able to honor her with the Horticultural Achievement Certificate.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett have recently opened a nursery for deciduous and evergreen trees, shrubs, and perennials on their property in Londonderry. It is called "Oliver's Village Nursery".

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of Milton Road have returned after participating in the annual American Yacht Club cruise aboard their sleek, Running Bear. They had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. G. Smith of Rye, Mr. and Mrs. John Bernard of Princeton, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dickenson of Suffield, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Smith of Bethel Park, Pa., and children, Lynn, Wendy and Timothy, are spending a two week vacation in Rye visiting with their families, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly of Sonn Dr. and Mr. and Mrs. William W. Smith of Green Avenue.

Margaret L. Moore and Capt. Andre J. Dumas Have Military Wedding

The military wedding of Margaret Lynne Moore and Captain Andre Jules Dumas, U.S.M.C., took place on June 24 in Heinz Memorial Chapel, Penn Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa. The double ring ceremony, which was performed by Rev. H. Randell Edwards and Rev. Nicholas De Prospero, was followed by a reception at the Hospitality Inn.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Moore of Penn Hills, wore white embroidered organza with a floor length bouffant veil and carried pink and white roses. Her maid of honor, Paula Lipard of Portsmouth, Virginia, wore pink organza. The bridesmaids each wore a pastel color of the rainbow. They were Mrs. Harold Hoffman of Vineland, N. J., Kay Rigling and Kay Smith, both of Charlottesville, Virginia, Judith Hodge, cousin of the bride of Valencia and Mrs. Martin Steele of Norfolk, Va. They wore picture hats which matched their gowns and carried identical nosegays fashioned on a lace fan.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. William J. Dumas and the late Mr. Dumas of Highland Park Place, Rye, asked his brother, Michael of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla, to be best man. The ushers included Paul Moore, brother of the bride, William Whamond of Stamford, Conn., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Jeff Marz of Branford, Conn., Captain Patrick Massa of Woodbridge, Va., and Captain Martin Steele of Portsmouth, Pa.

The bride, a graduate of Penn Hills High School, was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh, and received a masters degree from the University of Virginia. Her husband is a graduate of Spring Hill College, Alabama and served in DaNang, Vietnam.

The newlyweds are currently living in Alexandria, Va., where the bridegroom is employed by Proctor and Gamble.
