MHA Announces Workshop Series

Mrs. Baldwin Blanke, chairman of the Rye Mental Health Association, has announced that once more this fall there will be a series of workshops for Rye parents, under the leadership of Dr. Phyllis Heller.

The first series, given in the spring of 1963 on "How the Pre-teen Looks at the World" was sponsored by the Milton P.T.A. It was so successful that the following fall workshops were given at the Milton, Osborn and Midland schools, again on the subject of the pre-teens. The series this fall will further expand the subject matter and those invited to attend. The subject "Understanding Our Children from Tots to Teens", is open to parents of children in the Junior and Senior High Schools as well as all three elementary schools.

Dr. Heller, who has conducted all of these workshop series, is a Wellesley graduate, received her M.A. in Vocational Guidance and her Ed.D. in Marriage and Family Life at Columbia University's Teachers College. The present series, as was true of previous workshops, will be informal and the interest of those attending will determine the emphasis given to stages of development and problems discussed.

The series will be held at the Recreation Center on Midland Avenue, starting at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Nov. 2, and will continue each Monday for six weeks. Registration is not necessary and there is no charge for the series.
